

— SEO &amp; LOCAL SEARCH AUDIT — ROLL CALL PAINTING

WINNING THE PACK. LEAKING THE REST.

Roll Call Painting ranks #1 or #2 across nearly every high-intent painter query in Wichita. Underneath that visibility sit four fixable problems — missing local schema, a 9.9-second mobile load, 138 images with no alt text, and a citation profile scoring 39/100.

01 — EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

STRONG POSITION, CAPPED BY PLUMBING

Roll Call is winning the local pack more often than not — it ranks #1 or #2 across nearly every high-intent "painter/painting in Wichita" query tracked, trades top spot regularly with River City Painting Inc, and carries the largest backlink footprint of the local field.

The site has real technical gaps working against that visibility. None are hard to fix — they're the kind of gaps that quietly cap growth once the easy wins (reviews, proximity, brand searches) are exhausted.

02 — LOCAL PACK POSITIONING

TEN QUERIES, ONE CLEAR PATTERN

We tracked Google Local Pack position across the ten highest-intent painter queries a Wichita homeowner would realistically search. The business appears in the visible 3-pack for every query except one, and holds #1 in six of ten.

Google Local Pack for "painter in Wichita" — Roll Call Painting #1

"PAINTER" WINS, "PAINTING" DOESN'T

On every agent-noun query Roll Call takes #1. On every service-noun query River City takes #1, with Roll Call at #2. Consistent across exterior, interior and the head term — a real signal, not noise.

CABINET PAINTING IS RIVER CITY'S GROUND

The one sub-vertical where River City holds #1 on both phrasings, with specialist Koop Painting at 3rd. Their reviews already cite cabinet refinishing by name. Roll Call's most exposed flank.

THE HEAD TERM IS WON BY THE WRONG CATEGORY

"Painting in Wichita" surfaces no residential contractor at all — a paid slot for HNS Services and organic results for pottery-painting studios. A market-wide category-relevance problem.

Hours read as a default, not a fact

The profile shows "Open 24 hours" on every tracked query while every competitor displays real windows ("Opens 8 AM", "Opens 6 AM"). For a painting contractor that reads as a data-entry default and undercuts credibility in side-by-side comparison.

Tenure gap raises the stakes on reviews

"5+ years in business" against River City's 20+ and Western Home's 45+. Not fixable — which makes the 529 reviews at 4.9★ and the photo strength the trust signals worth actively protecting.

The map card shows the same two photos

The same before/after fireplace pair and one exterior "After" shot surface across nearly every query. Fresh, service-tagged photos would give Google more to rotate and pull query-relevant imagery into the card.

Category selection is worth re-checking

Confirm the primary and secondary GBP categories are as tightly matched to "painting contractor" as possible, so the broadest term isn't ceded to an unrelated category.

03 — COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

A TWO-HORSE RACE

Roll Call and River City alternate #1/#2 on almost every query, with Western Home Painting a consistent, distant #3. Everyone else surfaces only where they

| Non-branded traffic share  | 80%             | 73%             | Roll Call — more demand-driven  |

Roll Call leads on authority and backlink volume and pulls a healthier share of non-branded, service-intent traffic. The metric worth watching is keyword count: larger in absolute terms but trending down, while River City's smaller base trends up. Referring domains also slightly favor River City — more link diversity would strengthen the profile.

04 — KEYWORD & CONTENT GAPS

FOUR GAPS WORTH CLOSING

Cabinet painting is under-supported

River City wins both cabinet queries with review content actively reinforcing it. A dedicated cabinet painting page — own gallery, process detail, FAQ — targets the weakest sub-vertical directly.

"Painting" phrasing is under-weighted

Service page titles, H1s and GBP service descriptions lean on "painter" language. Real volume splits across both forms — both need equal weight.

03

Keyword count trending the wrong way

947 and falling while the closest competitor climbs. A focused content push — new service and location pages, blog content — adds fresh ranking keywords instead of relying on the existing set to hold.

04

The head term is unclaimed

Long-tail service terms remain the efficient place to compete, but GBP category selection should be tightened so "painting in Wichita" isn't ceded to unrelated categories by default.

05 — TECHNICAL SEO

WHERE THE SITE WORKS AGAINST ITSELF

Google's Rich Results Test was run against the homepage and two representative service pages. The same pattern repeats on every page: Article schema present and valid, Organization present with non-critical issues, LocalBusiness absent entirely.

|------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Homepage (/)          | Article, Organization              | No LocalBusiness schema. Article schema on a homepage is the wrong type. |
| /interior-painting/   | Article, Breadcrumbs, Organization | A service page should not carry Article schema.                          |
| /commercial-painting/ | Article, Breadcrumbs, Organization | Same pattern — confirms it's site-wide, not a one-off page.              |

Rich Results Test — /interior-painting/ (Article + Breadcrumbs + Organization)

THE FIX, IN THREE PARTS

Remove Article schema from the homepage and all non-blog pages — it belongs on actual blog posts only. This is almost certainly the SEO plugin's default article template applied across every page type.

Implement LocalBusiness (or the more specific HomeAndConstructionBusiness / Painter subtype) site-wide, with NAP, service area, hours, price range and aggregateRating. This is the type Google uses to power local rich results and validate GBP data against the site — its absence is the bigger miss.

Resolve the Organization warnings flagged on every page — commonly a missing sameAs (social/GBP profile links) or a logo sizing requirement.

5.2 — SITEMAP & CRAWL

GOOD

robots.txt

No blocking or misconfiguration issues found.

5.3 — CANONICALIZATION

/blog/2/ → /blog/

/blog/3/ → /blog/

/blog/4/ → /blog/

Canonicalizing every paginated archive to page 1 tells Google those pages are duplicates of the blog homepage, which can suppress crawling of older posts only linked from page 2 onward. Switch to self-referencing canonicals so each listing page is treated as distinct and indexable.

5.4 — IMAGE ALT TEXT

138 IMAGES, ZERO ALT ATTRIBUTES

Beyond the accessibility impact, this is lost on-page relevance on a site that leans heavily on before/after photography to sell the work.

Before/after project photos

36

Highest-value category to fix first — describe service type and result, e.g. "kitchen cabinet painting before, Wichita KS".

Other service & homepage imagery

31

Project gallery photos

24

Staff / team headshots

15

Include names and roles in the alt text.

Homepage benefit icons

11

Logo & brand marks

8

Award / trust badges

74 of the 138 flagged images returned a 0-byte size in the crawl, consistent with lazy-loaded images the crawler couldn't fully fetch rather than broken files. The missing alt text itself is confirmed across all 138.

Including Facebook — notable given how often it's cross-referenced by both consumers and citation aggregators. Building the highest-authority missing directories first would do the most to lift the 34% found-rate.

Business name is correct on all 13 found listings and zip is correct on all 13 — the drift is entirely in address (5 errors) and phone (1 error). Source: Citation Tracker, 38-site US directory set.

07 — PRIORITIZED ACTION PLAN

WHAT TO DO, IN ORDER

CRITICAL

Fix first

- 01 Fix mobile LCP (9.9s → under 2.5s). Compress and resize hero and gallery images, add width/height attributes to prevent layout shift, and properly lazy-load below-the-fold gallery images.
- 02 Implement LocalBusiness schema site-wide with full NAP, hours, service area and aggregateRating.
- 03 Remove Article schema from the homepage and all non-blog pages; confirm it applies only to actual blog posts.
- 04 Correct the BBB phone number and Hotfrog street address — both are live, confirmed-wrong NAP data on major directories.

HIGH

Next 30 days

- 05 Write alt text for all 138 flagged images, starting with the 36 before/after project photos.
- 06 Switch blog pagination to self-referencing canonicals instead of canonicalizing to /blog/.

- 09 Fill in the four incomplete-address citations and claim the highest-authority missing directories, starting with Facebook.

MEDIUM

Ongoing

- 10 Build a dedicated, deeply optimized cabinet painting page to compete with River City's hold on that sub-vertical.
- 11 Audit service page titles, H1s and GBP service descriptions for balanced "painter" vs. "painting" coverage.
- 12 Add fresh service and location content to reverse the declining organic keyword trend.
- 13 Refresh GBP photos with service-tagged, job-specific images instead of the same recurring before/after pair.
- 14 Resolve the non-critical Organization schema issues and investigate CLS alongside the image fixes.

WANT THESE FIXED?

Four critical items stand between a strong local position and a compounding one. Let's work through them in order.
